

REMOTE WORK POLICY

1. Eligibility

Remote work arrangements are available to employees who:

- Have completed their probationary period (minimum 3 months)
- Have a satisfactory performance rating in their most recent review
- Hold a role that can be performed effectively outside the office
- Have a suitable and private home working environment

Remote work is a privilege, not a right, and may be revoked if performance or conduct issues arise. Certain roles (e.g., reception, facilities) require on-site presence and are not eligible for remote work.

2. Equipment and Technology

The company will provide the following for approved remote workers:

- Laptop computer (Windows or macOS, as per role requirements)
- Noise-cancelling headset for video calls
- Software licences required for the role

Employees are responsible for:

- A reliable broadband internet connection (minimum 25 Mbps download)
- A suitable desk, chair, and lighting arrangement
- Keeping all company equipment secure and in good condition

A monthly internet allowance of SGD 50 will be reimbursed upon submission of receipts via the expense portal.

3. Core Working Hours

Remote employees must be available and responsive during core hours: 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM in their local time zone.

Outside core hours, flexibility is permitted provided all deadlines are met and team commitments are honoured. Employees should communicate their intended working schedule to their manager at the start of each week.

4. Communication Expectations

Remote employees are expected to:

- Respond to messages (Slack, email) within 2 hours during core hours
- Attend all scheduled video meetings with camera on by default
- Update their Slack status to reflect current availability
- Proactively communicate blockers or changes in availability

Internal Policy Document - Confidential

Team leads should schedule at least one weekly video check-in with remote team members to maintain alignment and team cohesion.

5. Home Office Setup Allowance

New remote workers are entitled to a one-time home office setup allowance of up to SGD 500, claimable within the first 3 months of the arrangement. Eligible expenses include:

- Ergonomic chair or desk
- External monitor
- Keyboard and mouse
- Webcam or ring light

Receipts must be submitted via the HR expense portal. Luxury or personal items (e.g., televisions, gaming equipment) are not eligible.

6. Health and Safety

Employees are responsible for ensuring their home workspace meets basic health and safety standards:

- Adequate lighting to prevent eye strain
- An ergonomic setup to prevent posture-related injuries
- A smoke detector present in or near the work area

The company reserves the right to conduct a virtual workspace assessment and may require corrective action if the workspace is deemed unsafe.
